DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 6, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 51, and 54-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ekenstam et al. (4,072,249).

Ekenstam et al. teaches of:

A pump (Figs. 1-3) for dispensing fluid, said pump comprising:

a pump body (2);

a fluid reservoir formed in said pump body;

and, a deflectable diaphragm (1) mounted in a wall of said pump body so as to be exposed externally of said pump, said diaphragm being deflectable (Fig. 2) into said fluid reservoir so as to decrease the volume encompassed by said fluid reservoir, wherein said diaphragm is deflectable from an initial position (Fig. 1, 3), where said diaphragm extends outwardly from said pump, to a second, deflected positions where said diaphragm extends into said pump, said diaphragm decreasing the volume encompassed by said fluid reservoir when in said second position, said diaphragm remaining in said deflected position.

According to the claims.

In Reference to Claim 54

The pump of Figs. 1-3 is considered to be a pre-compression pump since the substance contained in the pump chamber will not leave it in order to be delivered until the pressure in the pump chamber exceeds a predetermined limit necessary to instantly switch over to the position shown in Fig. 2 (see column 2, lines 45-53).
